

LIPA TRADE ALLY PARTNERS PROGRAM

www.lipower.org

1-800-692-2626

Becoming a LIPA Trade Ally Partner offers unique advantages tailored expressly for our partners in the trades.

www.lipower.org

Printed on Long Island using recycled paper

FC 11398 3/11

Trade Ally Partners Program

Our Goal

LIPA established the Trade Ally Partners Program to foster partnerships and promote our licensed and reputable associates who work in the trades. Architects, builders, engineers, electrical and HVAC contractors, electrical inspectors, ENERGY STAR® raters, solar installers, and other trades are all involved in the program. As an example, through LIPA's, 10-year Efficiency Long Island initiative, we partner with Building Performance Institute (BPI) accredited contractors to increase energy efficiency, lower energy usage, and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Our goal is to:

- Increase awareness of LIPA programs and new technologies, including renewable energy
- Use the valuable feedback we receive from the trades to continuously improve our programs to benefit you and our customers
- Provide energy industry information
- Enhance service delivery to customers by providing training opportunities
- Serve as a reliable technical resource

Any trades person that works in the LIPA service territory (Nassau, Suffolk and the Rockaways) is welcome to join our Trade Ally Partners program. Participation is free of charge.

Trade Ally Partners Program Benefits

Participating in the LIPA Trade Ally Partners Program provides unique advantages tailored expressly for our partners in the trades. Specifically:

- Education and ongoing training such as courses on the LIPA Redbook, pad mounted transformer, solar power and renewable energy, LIPA Energy Efficiency programs, safety procedures, and electrical codes and standards.
- Quarterly newsletter covering issues important to the trades
- A specialized section of the LIPA Web site dedicated to Trade Allies with industry-specific information and tools
- Workshops, technical seminars and conferences
- Introduction of new electric technologies
- Participation in related Trade Ally association events and trade shows
- Annual LIPA Trade Ally Contractor Recognition and Awards Breakfast
- Annual LIPA Electrical Industry Exposition

And much more...

Become a Partner with LIPA

LIPA supports Trade Ally Partners through promotion in our customer communications throughout the year, as well as by sponsoring BPI courses leading to certification in the building sciences. BPI contractors can earn incentives, and attractive rebates for their customers, when participating in LIPA's Home Performance with ENERGY STAR® program. HVAC contractors who participate in our Cool Homes program are offered discounted technical training and listing on LIPA's Web site. Trade Ally partners are the first to know about new electro-technologies or changes to LIPA procedures. You can maintain an edge over the competition by participating in LIPA's training and refresher courses. Plus, you'll network with LIPA service and planning personnel, and be informed about industry events.

Join the Trade Ally Partners Program

Send your name, your company name, address and telephone number to: lipatradeally@service.lipower.org.

Or to: LIPA Trade Ally Partners Program
25 Hub Drive
Melville, NY 11747

Local Electrical Industry Associations

Local trade associations and training centers include:

- 5 Boro Electric: NYC based electrical contractor association. www.5boroelectric.com
- IBEW: Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee. www.lijatc.org
- LISEA: Long Island Solar Energy Industries Association. www.liseia.org
- Long Island Electrical Training Center. www.electricaltrainingcenterli.com
- Nassau Electric League: Nassau County based electrical contractor association. www.nassauelectricleague.com
- SCECA: Suffolk County based electrical contractor association. www.sceca.com

For a complete list visit www.lipower.org/trade.