A Recommendation That Can Save You $$$

Savvy business owners always look for ways to reduce their operating costs, and LIPA has a program that you may not have considered. Are you currently operating lighting, air-conditioning or processing equipment that is old and inefficient?

Upgrading equipment before the end of its life cycle may entitle you to some robust incentives from LIPA. So go ahead...look around your shop or office... there may be an opportunity to increase your efficiency, receive LIPA incentives and get a leg-up on your competition.
