

Good for the air – inside and out

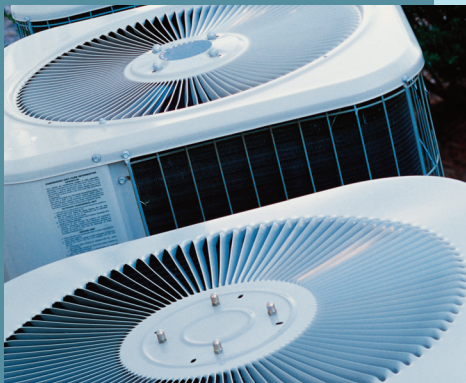

A dehumidifier will increase your comfort by removing excess moisture from the air.

That will help to reduce allergy symptoms and musty odors. An ENERGY STAR® qualified dehumidifier will do that for you while using 10-20% less energy than a conventional model – and less energy means less pollution outside.

In addition to the hundreds of dollars in energy savings over the life of your unit, LIPA is offering a $10 rebate on ENERGY STAR qualified dehumidifiers. This offer is good throughout 2010. If you have questions or to get a list of participating retailers and qualified models, visit www.lipower.org/efficiency or call 1-877-654-5472.

How Cool is Your Home?

Even if you are not ready for retirement, your central air conditioner (CAC) may be. The LIPA Cool Homes Early Retirement Program will keep you more comfortable while keeping more money in your pocket with energy savings and a rebate of up to $700 on a new system throughout 2010! The Cool Homes Program is also available even if you do not already have a CAC system.

A quality Cool Homes installation ensures you have a properly-sized, energy-efficient CAC unit. Replacing a system that is only 10-15 years old will increase your comfort and can save $250 a year in energy costs.

You can choose from our list of pre-qualified Cool Homes contractors, or ask your contractor to participate in the program. Visit www.lipower.org/efficiency or call 1-800-692-2626 to start saving hundreds of dollars. That's pretty cool.
