

Name

John Carr

Comment

Long Island needs a reliable energy system, and PSEG has shown that they are more concerned with squeezing profits out of ratepayers over providing a reliable energy system.

We need to establish new standards for accountability and resilience for electrical service, and to have a system that meets those standards with dependable power while we move toward a clean energy infrastructure.

Public power works: Across the country, public utilities have proven to be affordable and reliable.

I urge you to end the contract with PSEG and immediately begin the transition to a fully public power system on Long Island.