Independence	Our professional standards and other regulatory requirements specify that we are required to communicate to you in writing, at least annually, all relationships between our firm, or any affiliates of the firm, and UDSA and persons in a financial reporting oversight role at UDSA, which may reasonably be thought to bear on independence. In addition to the professional services disclosed in the previous slides, we are not aware of any relationships between our firm and LIPA and persons in a financial reporting oversight role at UDSA. In connection with our audit of UDSA, KPMG and relevant KPMG professionals have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, as that term is defined by the professional standards.

Significant Risks

Risk of fraud due to management override of controls

Management is in a unique position to perpetrate fraud because of its ability to manipulate accounting records and prepare fraudulent financial statements by overriding controls that otherwise appear to be operating effectively. Although the level of risk of management override of controls will vary from entity to entity, the risk nevertheless is present in all entities.

Procedures performed

Audit Response:

- Evaluated the design and implementation of controls over the financial reporting process, inclusive of controls over the preparation of journal entries;
- Evaluated UDSA's CERAMIC controls to determine if there were any indication of management override;
- Evaluated the journal entry population for completeness;
- Evaluated the journal entry population for accuracy; and
- Performed testwork over journal entries and other adjustments recorded after the closing of the trial balance

Audit Findings:

- No significant findings per the results of the above procedures
